Gospel Reflections REDEFINING KINGSHIP

This last Sunday of the Church's liturgical year is I dedicated to Christ, our King. In the first reading I from the second book of Samuel, we meet Jesus' I refreshments in Immaculate Mary Hall. You may ancestor David, the greatest king of Israel. This passage describes a glorious monarch who is acclaimed by all the tribes of Israel. He is called I both a "shepherd" and a "commander." The I second reading, from Paul's Letter to the Colossians, also contains glorious language describing Christ as I ! "the firstborn of all creation." Only at the end of this ! passage do we hear a hint of the paradox we will meet in today's Gospel: Christ the King makes "peace by the blood of his cross."

In Luke's Gospel, we confront the stark reality of Christ's kingship. Here is our king, hanging on a cross, jeered, taunted, berated by a common criminal. This king looks defeated and powerless. Yet he demonstrates how absolute his power is. His death is truly for the salvation of all, one person at a I time, starting with the "Good Thief" and continuing I through the ages to us today.
